Demand in favor of the town—due from United States, $1440 40. This amount has been brought forward for many years. We do not understand its origin, but it evidently originated during the war, and was based on the expectations of the Selectmen that the United States would refund the town for some war expenditures or bounties paid. We see no prospect that it will be collected, and advise the town to take some action in regard to its continuance on our books.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION,

FOR THE YEAR ENDING MARCH 1, 1893.

The Board of Education respectfully submit to the citizens of Newington, the following report of the school for the year ending March 1, 1893:

The school for the past year has been quite a success, although not so much so as it might have been had the scholars been more regular in their attendance. There is seemingly a lack of interest on the part of some parents in regard to the regular attendance of their children at school. A little more attention on the part of some in this respect would have saved a good many absent marks from the register, and would have shown a far greater improvement on the part of the pupil.

It is almost impossible for scholars to make great improvement in their studies, unless they are regular in their attendance at school, and certainly the absent ones are the losers in this respect.

A flag presented to the district was raised upon the school building, on Columbus day, and exercises appropriate for the day were given by the scholars and others at the Town Hall in the evening.

Our school for the spring and fall terms was under the care of Miss Mattie E. Hopkins of Fort Fairfield, Me. Miss Hopkins has a good faculty for teaching, and the scholars made good improvement under her instruction.

The winter term was taught by William C. Dutton of Hartford, Vt. Mr. Dutton has had previous experience as a teacher, and seemed to be well fitted for the position, and taught a good term of school. The term is to continue three days longer.

REPORT

OF THE

Langdon Library Building Committee.

Fellow Townsmen :—The year 1892 will henceforth be a marked epoch in the history of Newington. From that year dates the conception and erection of your Public Library—the result of a noble offer from a noble man, Woodbury Langdon, Esq., and we, whom you selected to be the instruments by which the desired end might be attained, do, with pleasure, herein present an account of our stewardship.

In all the transactions claiming our attention while performing the duties pertaining to the Library Building Committee, we have tried to keep an eye single to the welfare of the community. Simplicity in design, thoroughness and durability in construction, and economy in expenditures, have been our watchwords. Perfection belongs to none of us, while criticism is universal; one we do not claim, the other we expect.

We believe that when this building shall have been dedicated to the diffusion of knowledge, that the seed sown then will spring up and bear fruit manifold, bringing enlightenment to present and future generations. We cannot overrate its advantages, nor be too thankful for its possession.

To Mr. Langdon, the generous donor of the books, your thanks and ours are due; nor would we forget to mention that the elegant desk and chair that adorn the book room, are a gift from John E. Rider, Esq., of Portsmouth, to whom many thanks are also due.

By a careful perusal of what follows you may inform yourselves concerning the total cost of the Literary Building:

REPORT OF LIBRARY TRUSTEES.

Owing to unavoidable circumstances we are unable to make an extended report. During the year one of the Trustees, John Furber, who was chosen at the last annual meeting for two years, suddenly passed to the mysterious future, leaving a vacancy which was filled by the appointment of Miss Eldora A. Pickering for the remnant of the year.

The Trustees have held several meetings in the interest of the Library, and at a recent meeting appointed Miss Faith Staples, Librarian, which office she accepts. Some members of the Board have visited Concord, Dover, and Farmington, conferring with the State Library Commissioners and library officers regarding the best means to attain desired results.

We have received the annual appropriation of fifteen dollars for the year 1892, and have expended the same for needed furniture.

Allusion has already been made in another report to the chair and desk, an elegant oak roll-top, the gift of a citizen of Portsmouth. Other furniture wants are manifest, and we trust that the appropriation for 1893 will be immediately available.

As the Library Building has not been formally turned over to the Trustees, we are not prepared to say much concerning the books; but, to avoid duplicating any books in Mr. Langdon's list in selecting our assignment from the state's list, we have delayed making the selection.

Several cases of Mr. Langdon's books have lately arrived, and as he wishes us to make our state selection before he furnishes the remainder of his list, it is probable that before town meeting we shall open and catalogue the books received and make our selection from the state.

We suggest that many books in the possession of the Town Clerk be deposited in the Library, some for reference there only, and others for circulation, as the Trustees may determine.

We solicit contributions of books from our citizens, absent sons and daughters of our town, and others who may cheerfully aid us in the good work so munificently originated.

We congratulate the people of our town upon having such rare opportunities for mental culture so easily accessible, and we heartily thank the Building Committee for all their efforts in the erection of the beautiful building so carefully designed for our use, and which enables us to start our Library under such favorable auspices.

Respectfully submitted,

VALENTINE M. COLEMAN,	}	Trustees.

TRUST FUND.

EXTRACT FROM SUSAN D. F. DEMERITT'S WILL.

I give and bequeath unto the Town of Newington, in said County of Rockingham, the sum of two hundred dollars in trust to be paid to said Town within one year after my decease, which sum I direct shall be held in trust perpetually by said Town, the net income thereof to be judiciously and economically expended by the board of Selectmen or by Trustees appointed by the Town, for the purpose in the proper care, protection, repair, renewals, and keeping in good condition the burial lot and the tablets and monuments therein in the cemetery lot of said Town, where the remains of my honored parents are interred. The principal I direct to be invested in safe funds or securities (security and permanent always, being preferred to high rates of interest or investments of a doubtful character,) and if at any time the accumulations of interest above what may be required for carrying out the objects above described, shall reach any considerable sum, then in such event I direct and authorize the expenditure of such surplus not needed or required for the above purpose, to be expended in like manner, under the same direction in the care, repair, adornment, preservation, and renewal of the fences, grounds, walks in and around said cemetery, or for setting out trees and shrubs therein.

The Selectmen have received from Hon. John Hatch, executor of said will, $200, and by and with his advice and consent have deposited the amount with the Trust and Guarantee Company.
